WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1   1.   A computer-implemented method for generating a computer model of

2   one or more teeth, comprising:

3   receiving as input a digital data set of meshes representing the one or more

4   teeth;

5   compressing the digital data set; and

6   displaying the compressed digital data set.